

In this Issue: Community Cabinet, Subdivision started, Senior week, Torres Strait Island Art Show, and more...

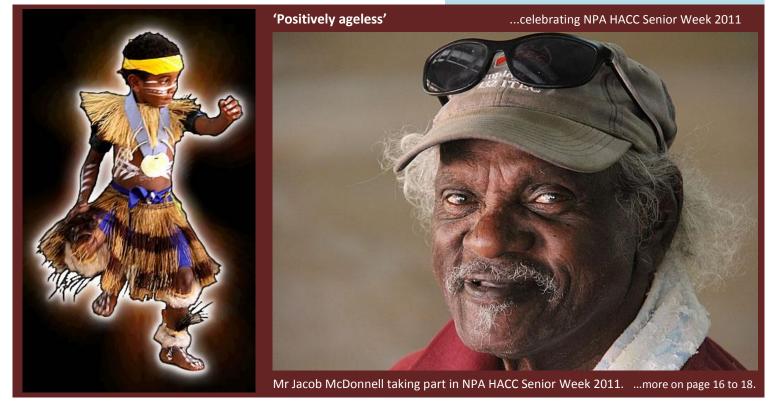

Community Cabinet meets at Waiben (Tamwoy, T.I.). ...more on page 3 to 6.

Effective immediately: Level 4 water restrictions!

13th Oct: Two of SunWater's 3 pumps at the Jardine have failed. As a result water supply to the treatment plant is reduced. All residents are now urged to conserve water, as we are using 1 million litres / day more than can be produced. Water restrictions Level 4 are now in place (no sprinklers, no hosing and other restrictions). Stay tuned with FM91.9 and see local notice boards on latest developments.

Torres Strait Island Art Show in Queensland's capital.....more inside.

NPARC Chief Executive Officer Mr Stuart Duncan

Community Cabinet Meeting

'No issue is too big or too small in the casual, no-ties, coats-off atmosphere of Community Cabinet where the focus is on finding solutions to problems and finding better ways for us to deliver State Government services.' expresses the Premier of Queensland, Ms Anna Bligh, in her Premier's Message.

Sunday, 29 Aug, Tagai State College, Secondary Campus. The Queensland Cabinet meets with the community and community leaders at Tamwoy, Waiben (T.I.). Prior to opening the meeting Minister Paul Lucas explained that there had been a delay in the arrival of Premier Ms Anna Bligh, as she had just received sad news. Ms Anna Bligh arrived shortly after and shared the sad news with all present. The remains of missing teenager Daniel Morcombe had been found, confirmed by DNA testing. Daniel had been missing since 2003 (he was 13yrs old then). The Country Cabinet and all guests stood in silence for a minute.

Issue 30 Sep/Oct 2011

Father Tom Stephens conducted the prayers. All the community sang a hymn. Two young Tagai students sang the National Anthem, which all joined in singing. Queensland Premier Ms Anna Bligh introduced the Tagai Secondary Campus Dance Team.

Ms Bligh pledged $50k to "to support the TSRA, professional development for a number of artists who are doing such great work. We want to see more of the art of the Torres Strait out there, in the world, for people to understand, to appreciate...," and she added "to buy it and to contribute to the economy here."

"We are a government that cares deeply about the Torres Strait and that's why we're here today," says Ms Bligh in her opening address and informed of the large Torres Strait exhibitions currently in Brisbane spanning Queensland Libraries and Art Exhibitions, "...which is the biggest ever display and exhibition in Brisbane about the history, the culture and the art of the Torres Strait. It is absolutely sensational. lt is attracting thousands of people and I get lots and lots of positive comments about it. One of the reasons of course that we have that exhibition there is this year marks the 140th anniversary of the 'Coming of the Light' (the arrival of Christianity)."

A total of 18 Ministers and Directors General of various government departments attended the meeting. "You not only have the political leader, but you also have the leader of the government department listening to your interests and have opportunity to take ideas further," says Ms Bligh.

The forum commenced with questions and answers from the audience. Outside Tagai Campus Mr Noel Bond and a group of people conducted a demonstration. "I have a peaceful demonstration. We make our voice known for greater autonomy, regional autonomy for Torres Strait. We don't want to call it Torres Strait * anymore; we want to call it Zenadh Kes. We want to identify ourselves. This is not a Spanish place. We got to keep our identity. This place belongs to the Kaurareg people. We respect them, the people from the outer islands. We respect the Kaurareg nations here. We have to because this is our culture. With all the state government coming in, policies and that,... we'd like the government to listen to us and respect us a bit more."

"The only way to truly appreciate the concerns, views and dreams of all Queenslanders is to hear them first hand," says Ms Anna Bligh.

*) Torres Strait was named in 1769 by Alexander Dalrymple (a Scottish geographer), following the discovery of documents that proved Luis Váez de Torres found a passage south of New Guinea.

Some of the sentiments of the demonstrators were also echoed from individuals in the audience. "I meant what I said earlier," says Ms Bligh, "but I personally and I think everybody in our government believes that this is a very special part of Australia."

"I'll be honest and say a very big part of me would be very sad to think that the Torres Strait was no longer part of Queensland, if that was the action that was to be taken. But my sadness is not an issue; my sadness is not something that helps societies. We need to look at whether the people of the Torres Strait can live sustainably in a very remote place without the support of the State Government. If you were a self determining territory, like the Northern Territory for example, then that would need a high level of economy, but that would mean that you would no longer be eligible for support from the State Government. But you may be eligible for support from the Federal Government, so it's a very complicated thing. The Queensland Government would never walk away from the Torres Strait. But if the Torres Strait determines that ultimately they believe that they should have a completely different sort of government, through a referendum, then we would never stand in the way either." P a g e | 3

Premier Ms Anna Bligh and Deputy Premier Mr Paul Lucas had earlier announced a $5million funding package* for Torres Strait Regional Council, to provide job security for the council's employees and to help the council towards a sustainable future.

*) The $5mill funding package: More than $3mill earmarked to support 45 engineering jobs and $2mill to support 25 administrative jobs in council. The funds will allow the council an average of 3 engineering officers who will work on each of the 15 outer islands to make sure water and sewerage infrastructure is maintained and up to scratch, explains a Ministerial Media Statement.

Referring to the $5mill funding and the sewerage works on the outer islands, Premier Bligh explained, "This is something that would need the support from somewhere, and I don't think that any of us should think that would be an easy task. That is something we would have to get right. I'm not going to leave people here without essential services. We have to get that right."

> On a lighter note: There used to be a time when school children received a day's holiday Minister when a visited, but 18 visiting Ministers did not translate to 18 extra holidays.

Sunday was set aside for public forum, informal deputations and formal scheduled deputations with the Premier and Ministers. Tagai class rooms were used for the occasions. The Country Cabinet opening is on Monday when the new government building on Thursday Island will be officially opened.

At a separate meeting they met with Minister Tim Mulherin (Agriculture, Food and Regional Economics) and Mr Bruce Turner, Associate Director-General, to speak about the Farm at Bamaga.

'Community Cabinet meetings also provide an open forum where members of the public could ask questions without notice. By working with Queenslanders at all levels and in all parts of the state, we can create a strong and vibrant Queensland that brings prosperity and quality of life to all.' Community Cabinet Meeting

The Mayor for Torres Shire, Mr Napau Petro Stephen, and Minister Pitt earlier had a healthy cook-off session at the IBIS Supermarket, Thursday Island, where Minister Curtis Pitt went out of his way looking for the tap to ensure all his vegetable ingredients were properly washed. Mr Pitt is Minister for Disability Services, Mental Health and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Partnerships.

Ms Jasmina Haukka (IBIS Nutritionist) who had been many times in the NPA demonstrating her cooking skills explained the benefits of using particular ingredients.

Both contestants proved that there are healthy and tasty alternatives to the all too often customary greasy sausage sizzle. Bowls of vitamin packed fruits provided the refreshments at the Tagai meeting.

Fire danger period

The Queensland Fire and Rescue Service (QFRS) declare a Fire Danger Period resulting in new rules on the lighting of fires.

Minister Neil Roberts (Police, Corrective Services and Emergency Services) said, 'except for a fire for cooking or warmth, Queenslanders would not be allowed to light a fire regardless of size without a permit from midnight this Sunday, 4 Sep, to midnight on Sunday, 1 Jan, 2012, adding, 'there were some types of fires which could be lit without a permit during a declared fire danger period unless they are prohibited by local council or law.'

New IBIS Supermarket opens

Bamaga's new IBIS opens 30th Sep, 2011, 12pm. Mr I. Copeland, CEO of IBIS.

Image right: It's down to business in one of the classrooms at Tagai Campus. Minister Tim Mulherin (Agriculture, Food and Regional Economies, right, centre), and Mr Bruce Turner (Associate Director-General, right) listening to the deputation relating to the NPA farm.

NPARC Mayor, Mr Elu, said it could become a viable operation, planting watermelon, pumpkin and other vegetables. The DPI (Department of Primary Industry) did soil tests earlier with good results. Mr Elu informed the Minister that many students at Bamaga Senior Campus are taught horticulture subjects in school. The building from Townsville has arrived at the farm, in the back of Bamaga.

The Deputations Programme allowed for informal deputations with no appointment and formal scheduled deputations, as the one with Minister Mulherin. There was a time limit for all deputations due to the many community leaders seeking to be heard.

New fishing rules from September

Minister Craig Wallace (Main Fisheries Roads. and Marine Infrastructure) reminded recreational fishers about the new rules for catching snapper in Queensland. Bag limit is reduced from 5 to 4 fish per person, with one fish over 70cm in length. The bag limit or 'possession' limit includes any previously caught fish, including those in the freezer or at the camp site. The minimum snapper size remains at 35cm.

QFRS Commissioner Lee Johnson said, 'Regardless of the type of fireplace it was the responsibility of the person lighting the fire to ensure all precautions were taken.'

To make it easier for property owners who regularly require permits Local Fire Wardens have been given the flexibility to issue seasonal fire permits based upon local conditions. Queenslanders are reminded this is not a "Fire Ban" and QFRS will continue to review the implementation of the Fire Danger Period as the season progresses.

Further information on the Fire Danger Period, local fire bans and how to obtain a permit can be found at:

The opening ceremony includes a traditional blessing, addresses by dignitaries, community specials and giveaways.

Another review of fisheries management, including an updated snapper assessment, will be completed in 2014. For more information on the new snapper rules: www.fisheries.qld.gov.au or call 13 25 23.

Committed to making Queenslanders Australia's healthiest people...

Minister Geoff Wilson (Health) said the Bligh Government was committed making to Queenslanders Australia's healthiest people and reducing chronic diseases such as heart 2020. "The disease by Government is providing $1.2 million over two years for the Heart Foundation to continue...

its good work through education, care and awareness our communities," Mr in Wilson said. "These initiatives help support the Queensland Government's promotion of healthy eating, physical activity and self-management of chronic disease. The key to improving the health of Queenslanders lies with all of us."

NPARC proposes new Local Laws for 2012 Animal Management:

The Northern Peninsula Area Regional Council is about to introduce new Local Laws in 2012. The laws are open for community consultation to the 3rd November, 2011. Any feedback should be directed to NPARC. The laws deal with Animal Management and Community and Environment Management.

They address many issues that have been brought to council's attention.

The proposed laws dealing with animal management are grouped in the 'Subordinate Local Law No. 2 (Animal Management) 2011'.

Copies are available from all NPARC offices and also from the website: http://www.nparc.qld.gov.au/web/guest/local-laws

This law deals with: The keeping of animals, control of animals, seizure, impounding or destruction of animals, appeals against destruction orders. It also covers de-sexing of animals, minimum standards for keeping animals, prohibition of animals in public places, off-leash areas for dogs, requirements for proper enclosures, as well as criteria for declared dangerous animals and the conditions for sale of animals.

Shown here is: Schedule 1 Prohibition on keeping animals (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 7, in Section 5)

Animal	Circumstances in which keeping of animal or animals is prohibited
Dog	More than 6 dogs over the age of 3 months on any one allotment
Cat	More than 6 cats over the age of 3 months on any one allotment
Horse, donkey, cow or bull	A density of animals that is greater than one animal per 4000 m ²
Sheep, goat, alpaca llama or pig	A density of animals that is greater than one animal per 1000 m ²
Poultry	A density of animals that is greater than 20 animals per 4000 m ²
Deer	A density of animals that is greater than one animal per 1000 m ²
Duck or goose	Unregulated
Ostrich or emu	Unregulated
Bees	One or more animals in the local government area.

The Minimum standards for keeping particular animals are spelled out in Schedule 5, (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 11, in Section(s) 8. Shown below is from Section 8(2) relating to horses, cattle, cats and dogs. There are also minimum standards for other animals which are not shown here).

Species or breed of animal	Minimum standards for keeping animals
Horses, Cattle and other animals of a similar size	 Where horses, cattle or other animals of a similar size are kept: 1. they must be adequately identified so that the keepers name, address and telephone number are readily ascertainable.
	2. an enclosure must be constructed to prevent any such animal from going within 10 metres of any dwelling (except any dwelling on the premises).
	3. an enclosure must also be constructed to prevent any such animal from going within 10 metres of any premises (other than a domestic kitchen used solely for domestic purposes by the keeper of the animals) used for the manufacture, preparation or storage of food for human consumption, other than food contained in hermetically sealed packages.
	4. an enclosure, which includes an open fenced area, must be sited a minimum distance of 2 metres from the premises boundaries (however, an exemption may be granted from compliance with this sub-paragraph if the boundary fence is not less than 2 metres high and the occupiers of premises adjoining the boundaries state in writing that they have no objection).
	5. in relation to entire horses, the enclosure must receive the approval, and be maintained to the satisfaction, of an authorised person.
Cats and Dogs	The owner of the cat or dog must ensure that at all times the animal is wearing the registration device mentioned in section 12(3) of the Animal Management (Cats and Dogs) Act 2008 (Qld) .

Schedule 6 deals with Prohibition of animals in public places (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 14, in Section 9)

Public place	Species or breed of animals prohibited
Any public place declared by resolution of the local government (or by another local law or subordinate local law) to be a place where animals are not permitted.	Any public place declared by resolution of the local government (or by another local law or subordinate local law) to be prohibited animal in a declared public place.
In any playground, or within 5 metres of any playground, in a park or reserve where animals are otherwise permitted.	All domestic animals
All cemetery reserves	All domestic animals
All parks, reserves and foreshores	All domestic animals other than cats, dogs and horses

Schedule 7 declares the Dog off-leash areas (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 15, in Section 11)

The following areas are declared to be

"Dog off-leash areas"—

- 1. parks;
- areas falling outside township areas identified by the local government with reference to the Town Plan;
- 3. foreshores;
- 4. any other area declared by the local government by resolution, to be a Dog off-leash area.

Schedule 8 shows the Requirements for proper enclosures for animals (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 16, in Section 13) Shown here are only the requirements to do with Horses, cattle, cats and dogs. There are also requirements for canaries and many other animal enclosures not shown here.

Species or breed of animal	Requirements for proper enclosures
Horses, Cattle and other animals of a similar size	 an enclosure must be constructed to prevent any such animal from going within 10 metres of any dwelling (except any dwelling on the premises).
	 an enclosure must also be constructed to prevent any such animal from going within 10 metres of any premises (other than a domestic kitchen used solely for domestic purposes by the keeper of the animals) used for the manufacture, preparation or storage of food for human consumption, other than food contained in hermetically sealed packages.
	 an enclosure, which includes an open fenced area, must be sited a minimum distance of 2 metres from the premises boundaries (however, an exemption may be granted from compliance with this sub-paragraph if the boundary fence is not less than 2 metres high and the occupiers of premises adjoining the boundaries state in writing that they have no objection).
	4. in relation to entire horses, the enclosure must receive the approval, and be maintained to the satisfaction, of an authorised person.
Cats and Dogs	 An appropriate enclosure to ensure that when unsupervised by the keeper, the animal does not stray from the premises, whether it be by:- a) A fenced yard of appropriate height; or b) A reasonable sized cage to allow the animal to move 360 degrees, with the animal only to be housed for limited hours; or c) Otherwise restrained from escape.

Please note: The above shows only a part of Schedule 8. The whole of Local Law No. 2 is much more extensive (23 pages).

Schedule 11 Criteria for declared dangerous animals (Subordinate Local Law No. 2, on page 21, in Section 15)

The following criteria will be considered by the local government in declaring an animal as a declared dangerous animal:

- 1. In the authorised person's opinion, there is a high likelihood of the animal causing injury to a person or animal or damage to property, taking into account:
 - a) its prior history of attacking or causing fear to persons or animals or damaging property; and
 - b) the extent of injury or damage that could potentially be inflicted by an animal of its size and species or breed; or
- 2. The authorised person's first-hand assessment of the animal has indicated that the animal has demonstrated aggressive tendencies;
- 3. A high level of concern about the danger posed by the animal has been expressed by neighbours or other persons who have come into contact with the animal.

Wild Rivers

NPARC Mayor, Mr Joseph Elu, "We need to protect the rivers, but we don't want to lock them up, so we can still do something, like tourism. But they say 'You can still do that', now they're saying that, but we know from the Barrier Reef, the Barrier Reef Marine Park Authority, there are a lot of spaces we could use, but gradually over the years they stopped this there, they stopped that there, over the years they've been starting to lock it up."

"Today when we look at the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park (there are) very few places where you can go and fish. A lot of it is locked up, you can't fish, you can't dive, you can't do anything."

"This might happen with Wild Rivers. Right now they are saying, 'Yes, you can still go and camp there, you can still fish there, you can still do this when it's a Wild River', but the experience from the Barrier Reef tells me that over the years they start taking things off."

Mangroves frame the banks of the Jacky Jacky (above).

"Maybe in 20 - 30 years time our kids won't be able to do anything. They just look at it and come back."

"This place (NPA) needs to develop. We need to do things for industry, development, so that we can get jobs. Right now 90% of our people work for government funds, very little enterprise, because the enterprises around here only employ 10% of the people. We need to grow that. The government sometimes grows, sometimes comes back. You can't rely on government."

"My feeling on Wild Rivers: We need to protect the rivers, but we also need to use them sensibly, sustainably, not just lock them up and say 'nobody is going to use them in the future'. If you want to fish as commercial fishermen you got to go right out (referring to the Barrier Reef). It's not commercial."

Queensland Disaster Management Arrangements

Mr Wayne Coutts is the Regional Director of the Queensland State Emergency Service (image).

A disaster is: a serious disruption in a community, caused by the impact of an event that requires a significant coordinated response by the State and other entities to help the community recover from the disruption.

A serious disruption means: loss of human life, illness or injury to humans, widespread or severe property loss or damage, widespread or severe damage to the environment.

Queensland had its share of disasters and images from the aftermath of Yasi, the floods, oil spills and clean-up operations had many recall the events that made recent headlines. Officers from the Queensland State Emergency Service held a meeting at New Mapoon (26 Aug) to explain about disaster management. Topic 1 covered the Definitions, Legislation and Doctrine.

Disaster management is about managing the adverse effects of an event, such as cyclone, flood, storm tide, volcanic eruption, tsunami, fire, oil, fuel, chemical gas or spill/leak, plague, epidemic other and events (natural or menmade).

It is also about preventing, preparing for, responding to and recovering from a disaster. The Disaster Management Act 2003 forms the legislative basis for the Queensland Disaster Management Arrangements (QDMA). The State

Disaster Management Plan describes the ODMA and underpinning principles and governance. Mr Rod Jacobs explained that the Queensland Disaster Management Policy Framework, which guides Queensland's strategic policy environment for disaster management, is based on 8 elements: Research, Policy and Governance, Risk Assessment, Mitigation, Preparedness, Response, Relief and Recovery and Post-Disaster Assessment.

We will get there, perhaps not today.

She's doing the dishes ...

... and rather large ones at that. Mrs Chris Mason works for Sky Bridge, assembling satellite dishes currently being installed throughout the NPA. They are a larger version for a better reception during the rain season.

A number of different crews are here installing the devices.

"The Azel mount goes on the back of the dish," says Mrs Mason whilst constructing the mounts the dish goes onto. "The LNB * goes on the front of the dish."

*) LNB = low noise block.

"We have a satellite metre. Each satellite has its own footprint, so we just look for the footprint through the metre and adjust the dish, then tighten it all up and get the strongest signal that we can. The satellite 'stays' in the same position, it rotates with the earth."

Recruitment drive

The Pre-work Development Team, including a doctor and 3 medical staff from Rio Tinto Alcan visited New Mapoon and Injinoo (end of August) to fill available jobs and traineeships at Weipa. Rio Tinto Alcan is seeking to employ Traditional Owners from the Western Cape York region for traineeships. They are also looking to recruit Indigenous people from across the Western Cape into mine operator roles as they become available.

> RIO TINTO ALCAN IS HERE TODAY TO TALK ABOUT THE NEXT INDIGENOUS TRAINEESHIPS INTAKE IN WEIPA.

NOTICE

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW MORE??? PLEASE TALK TO US.

Ms Linda McLachlan, "We're here about traineeships and expressions of interest for mine operators. We've got somebody doing the hearing tests, a physio, blood pressure, testing for sugar levels and drug and alcohol as well. We're doing it out here (meaning in the NPA), it gives people a chance to proceed quicker *." (Previously medical examinations were conducted at Weipa).

The Pre-work Development team with Ms Linda McLachlan (left) and medical staff Dr Naidoo (Medicheck, from Cairns), Jessica (administration), Nicolette, (physiotherapist and technician) and Josephine (medical technician).

Miss Kristie McManus (Human Resources), "We're working closely with an external health team who have joined us on our visit to NPA this time around. The health team provides feed-back to potential employees who want to work for us, around their health issues, whatever they might be. If potential diabetes, lung its disease, or even if they are suffering from substance abuse, including alcohol or illegal drugs, that comes up as well. They get the feed-back as to what medical concerns they have, and they can then work towards improving their level of health with their personal doctor hopefully in time for employment. It's great to be working with this health team in the community, as I feel we are actually giving something back to the community at the same time. Not everyone can get a job; hopefully we can give as many as possible, jobs and traineeships. But for those that don't, at least they have that feed-back around potential medical issues that they may not have previously been aware of so they can get ready for the next intake."

Recovering from the recent burn-off, pushing out new growth.

This one is pushing four tops.

Subdivision for Injinoo started

The first path is cut through thick bush, following the ribbons on the trees. The subdivision is in the area to the right of Snake Gully Road, when approaching from the Ropeyarn Hwy.

Mr Jim Foody, "The funding for the Injinoo subdivision has been approved and there are no impediments left in front of it. The actual official release of the money we believe is probably today (31th Aug) or within the next couple of days certainly. The project and funding has official approval (Dep. of Communities funding)."

Bamaga will get a similar subdivision which is MIPs funded. The plans for this are finished, with the location near the back of the Primary Campus, Elu Street.

"The Injinoo subdivision is the first one off the rank, it's to run in front of the Bamaga subdivision. The Injinoo need is seen as greater. The scrub is a bit of an issue. We're trying to leave some trees where possible, a park, and try to leave what natural stuff we've got there. We're clearing in stages, first off the road reserves as by the plan and then we start to clear off the blocks. We expect Bamaga to start in a week or so."

Mr Foody enjoyed his first holiday in 3 year during September. "I'll spend a bit of time with my mother," said Mr Foody before leaving. "My mother runs a 1000 hectare farm. She's 85 years old, still feeding her animals off the back of a ute.

Road to Muttee Heads turn-off

A 10km stretch from Injinoo cemetery towards and a little past the Muttee Heads turn-off is earmarked for a 2-coat bitumen seal. "I'm fighting tooth and nail to get the bitumen towards the end of this year," says Mr Foody. How can prices go up in a flat country that hardly has any mountains?

They'll find a way, trust me, dear.

Croc Warning

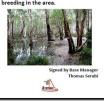

A croc warning had been issued late August. Parents were advised to keep their children away from the Injinoo swamp area, as crocodiles have been sighted on 28th Aug and 29th August by the Apudthama / NPARC Rangers. The crocs are possibly breeding in the area. Thanks to everyone for displaying the warning and to Mrs Amy McKeown for issuing the warnings over FM91.9.

This is Mr Serubi's finger (image right), bitten in 1973 by a small 7inch crocodile. Mr Serubi was working as a ranger at the time injecting sugar into the young croc. When removing the rubber band from the croc's snout it swung around and snapped the finger. "You don't need a croc a foot long, 7 inches is enough to do damage to my finger," says Mr Serubi.

The old toilet block at Injinoo sports field is now demolished, making room for a larger one.

Water works planned for Umagico Sports Field

This month, SunWater, in conjunction with NPARC, is constructing a pipeline to deliver raw water from the Bamaga water treatment plant to the Umagico sports field as part of a project to provide a reliable water source for the field.

"We were aware that the Umagico sports field did not have a constant water source which was impacting on the condition of the field," said SunWater Mareeba Service Manager Charlie Martens.

"We have designed the Bamaga to Umagico pipeline to create a direct water source for the field which will keep it in a good state throughout the entire year."

SunWater advises that the 4km pipeline is planned to be complete by September 30 in time for the end of the rugby league season.

The pipeline has been made possible through pipeline material provided by PPI Corporation, along with additional irrigation services from PIMS and transport services from SeaSwift and Simon National Transport.

"PPI Corporation is pleased to support this project and provide pipeline to provide a quality source of water for all activities at the Umagico sports field," said PPI Marketing Manager, Scott Douglas.

For more information, please contact SunWater Senior Media Advisor, Phoebe Grealy, on (07) 3120 0047 or at phoebe.grealy@sunwater.com.au.

Mr Alex Barker, "CDEP in conjunction with a training provider were putting up the scaffolding tower for the TV units and also finishing off the corporate boxes and the bench for the players. They will also be pulling it down once the game (Northern Pride vs Souths Logan Magpies, 20 Aug, 2011) is over."

"It's a CDEP project that we organised in a flash in about ½ hour today, free of charge. The guys will have to get some hours on putting the scaffolding up and down, and we consider this to be a good community project that will benefit all," says Mr Barker.

Mr Nick Curnow: "I want to esso the NPA Events Team and Parks and Gardens, Lionel Solomon and all the boys, and special thanks to Francis Bowie and Charlie Wasiu, who put 3 to 4 weeks of effort into getting the field looking like it was for all those teams. If it wasn't for them the oval (Ginau Bamaga Memorial Field) would not have looked as good as it did (referring to the Northern Pride / Souths Logan match)."

"I want to esso Estelle Gebadi, Nathan Campbell, Damien Elu and Michael Idai, they are the NPARC Events Team."

NPARC vacancies

Recent vacancies at NPARC: Administration Officer for Bamaga HACC, and a Skilled Labourer, Sewerage, for 3 months temporary position (Sep to Dec, 2011).

"It's an ongoing thing."

Way down south, many horse owners collect their horse manure, bag it and leave it near the farm gate, collecting a dollar or two for each bag in an honesty box. In the NPA all this is free. It's even home delivered and spread as evenly as possible. Could it be the horses have heard of the Backyard Gardening Programme and try their very best to help make it succeed? One thing is certain, not everyone appreciates their free donations.

Ms Newman's backyard.

Ms Kulasum Newman of Bamaga is not impressed, her backyard has its fair share, and on the narrow strips at the sides of her house as well. But that's not all: "I'm just sick of people going out, catching turtles and dugong and leaving it in the back of the yard, leaving the shells there for dogs to go in and drag it everywhere afterwards. I had turtle heads, turtle shells and flippers in my vard, dugong bones and everything. It's disgusting and very unhealthy. They (the hunters) should get rid of the shells and everything else, save people picking up the shells. You know, this is disgusting. It's an ongoing thing."

(The NPA Refuse Tip has an area for carcasses)

Above: Lui St, Bamaga, with 5 horses dropping in for a visit, each leaves something behind, and so do the dogs.

At Injinoo's basketball court a large dog with collar made a proper mess of a bag of kitchen scraps awaiting disposal into the bin, although every gate was shut. Even the bins are no sanctuary for the debris, and it takes many people doing the right thing to fill a bin, as dogs of all description find ways to kick them over and rummage through the spoils.

How do they get in? One jump through the lattice where a plank is missing. The dog then hangs midair, jammed at the ribcage; it wriggles with all

...seeing Australia as few people ever will

Hazel and Lindsay are retired 'gypsies' (self-proclaimed). Every six weeks they live somewhere else. For the past 71/2 years they have travelled the country, volunteering on over 35 properties, helping on farms and stations, as farm sitters / care takers. We met at Turtle Head Island, Cape York, where they stayed with Mr and Mrs Tully (NPA News, issue 29) for 9 weeks on their pearl farm, cleaning sheds, repairing a cottage and growing a vegetable garden.

They get to see Australia as few people ever will. They've since travelled on. They have never been to Cape York before.

"It's so beautiful up here," expresses Hazel, with reference to the Cape York area. Word of mouth gets the work," she says. "We've been to many properties where people had some sort of disability and were unable to work at the time. It's been a real pleasure to meet the characters of the Australia bush. Sometimes we care-take properties while the families take a well deserved holiday, often the first in ten years, or while one in the family needs to have medical treatment sometimes many kilometres from their home."

"Brian Eagan, he founded 'Aussie Helpers' *. He rings us up, 'Hey Hazel and Lindsay, we have someone that really needs some help. We need someone that has your skills.' We do a certain amount under that organisation, and we do a lot of word-of-mouth."

"When we were up in the Gulf looking after a property 18 months ago, over 7 families were flooded and lost a many of their cattle. So it meant that Christmas was going to be very lean." Hazel and Lindsay organised for Aussie Helpers to have Christmas hampers delivered to all the families."

Honey ants

"When we arrive on a property we are greeted with a lovely smile, a hand shake and a cup of tea."

"The children are so beautiful, they will tell you your jobs, feeding the calves, collecting the eggs, doing the water runs, feeding the horse and mowing the lawn and keeping the vegetable gardens."

"Most of these properties are very remote and isolated. One only goes to town about every 8 to 10 weeks, so a vegetable garden is a must."

*) Brian and Nerida Egan established Aussie Helpers in 2002 to help fight poverty and lift the spirits of those severely affected by drought in the outback.

"We weld gates up, organise the tool sheds, clean windows, paint, make chook runs, feed the cattle, we help with shearing, fix doors up and many other jobs. Lindsay and I love putting smile on faces every day. A few years ago we helped with a muster on a 1 million acre property in Western Australia. On arrival we were give a old Nissan with a radio in it and many spare tyres and told that's yours for the 6 weeks of the muster."

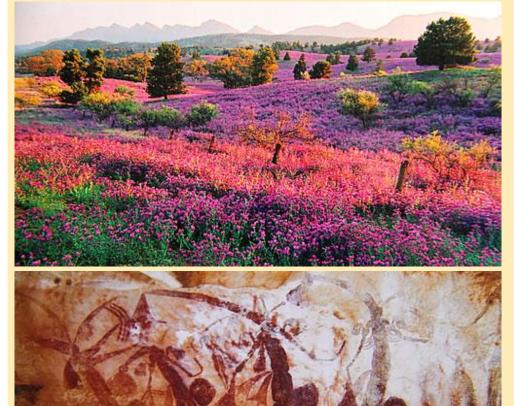

"The pilot (in a helicopter) would direct the car below to where the cattle are and ask to bring the cattle onto the road. You need to know your directions pretty well, and you bring 'em in and put them with the mob. These vehicles have no glass in them, except for the windscreen. The door was tied up with wire."

One day I was chasing a cow that got out of the pack. I spun around to the right and Hazel is out the window trying to photograph, and her door flew open and she's halfway out the door, with the camera. I swung back the other way and threw her back in. Oh boy, we were so lucky but we both laughed so much."

"We really hope to be able to keep helping properties owners for many more years and to see much more of this sunburnt country we call Australia."

Meeting with the designer

Traditional owners, elders, members of the community, business and NPARC met at Injinoo Council building with the designer of the proposed cultural centre for Injinoo.

The designer tabled preliminary suggestions of several A-frame buildings linked to another. The cultural centre, or centre for culture, is to give each community in the NPA a place to showcase their history, to tell their story.

The area where the community of Cowal Creek once stood is the site for the new centre, near present-day Injinoo look-out.

There is much consider: to How to keep the buildings cool enough so that cooling costs are kept as low as possible, the lay-out of the land, elevation, water run-off, ocean views, prevailing winds, the path of the sun, shading from trees, the ability to extend areas of the centre in the future, as the need arises.

BEL undertaking beautification work along the Tavern and at Bamaga Bakehaus where shade covers and benches are in place. The tree gets a good soaking to get started. In time the hard work can be appreciated by all.

It was suggested that as much as possible local people should be involved in building the centre and that materials should be freighted to the NPA cost effectively.

Mr Anthony Mara added that the longevity of building materials should be considered.

A bark dwelling as was used at Cowal Creek is planned. The funding for the design came from the Government Champion.

The centre could be of significance for present and future generations, and provide a venue for a variety of cultural events.

Senior week 2011

Seisia Community Hall was the place to be during Senior Week 2011 (22 – 26 Aug). The planned film night on the Monday did not take place. Tuesdays was Mad Hatter's Day. Some had the 'millinery skills' to fashion a tropical hat from scratch, using coconut fronds, whilst many others became absorbed in decorating the base models.

The bus travelled the communities to bring in seniors from all over the NPA to come and join the fun. A healthy breakfast was provided. HACC, NPAWS, Family Resource Centre and volunteers were there to lend a hand to ensure all had an enjoyable time.

Mrs Daniels from New Mapoon during the breakfast session.

Under the slogan 'Positively Ageless' NPA HACC is celebrating the week with a wide range of activities inviting everyone to be involved. HACC sought the help of volunteers decorating the hall at Seisia, preparing the food and help out with hat making. HACC provided all events free of charge. Funding came from NPARC, through Community Services, and may also from other sources, as Senior Week is held around Australia.

Master of Ceremony is local FM91.9 broadcaster, Mrs Ami McKeown. 'Who runs the station?' you may ask. It runs automatically following the installation of an automation system. It plays music or whatever content is programmed. "Once the News is on it switches automatically over and continues the regular programme afterwards," explains Mrs McKeown. Mr Lenny Gabey interviewed staff from HACC for broadcast on FM91.9.

In issue 29, NPA News, we had some close-up images of a fly. "The flies are good for something," says Mrs McKeown, "they tell you when the gas is running out, they all gather around the bottle."

There is only one place to do it properly, and that's on the ground.

Skilled hands move quickly, tucking, pulling, sizing the rim to fit, and before you know it it's all done.

Thursday evening was Senior Ball with a wide range of activities. Blaik Coral provided the entertainment. The food was blessed with a prayer. The hall was decorated with many colourful balloons and streamers. Pass the parcel, musical chairs, lucky door prize, best couple, and best dressed were some of the activities. The prize for the best decorated hat went to Mrs Diai Bagiri and Mr Israel Baira. Congratulations to all.

The love of life is reflected in the colourful creations of decorated hats, awaiting judgement, with the winner being announced at the night of the senior's ball. The hats are adorned with floral material, colourful feathers and flowers of all descriptions.

Pastor Titom Tamwoy introduced Mr Aisea Lobedi who is from Tonga visiting the seniors at Seisia Community Hall. "My dad is a dancer. Yeah, I can dance." Mr Lobedi will perform at Seisia, dancing 'Crucifixion'. "It's about the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. I dance this Friday morning. I want to express the love of Jesus through me to the people. That is my prayer that you will be minister to anyone who will be there when your dance starts."

Mr Lobedi earlier invited seniors to come and join in a dance on Friday. "Hopefully, I will see, because everyone will have decision..., but hopefully I want them to be with us. It's not one side generation thing, but we want them to..., we want us to receive something from them. It's two ways, it's not one way receiving. They receive from us, we receive from them. That's what I think."

"It's going to be hard to teach in the few days I'm here. I will be dancing on my own. The Fijian dance will be with the boys, I will explain it Friday morning. It's about 'seek and you will find', control 'knock and God will open for you'. Seek, knock and ask."

"I've been here four years ago, in Seisia. I was with a team, I danced with a team. It's the first time for me to express where I come from."

Toso was the name of the first dance, it means 'give'. A number of seniors did join Mr Lobedi in a dance, and all had fun doing it.

Message in a bottle

"We were collecting driftwood on the front beach when we found a letter in a bottle," says Mrs Tully from Turtle Head Island, who found it with visitor, Ms Morgan Broome. "Everyone always dreams of finding one when walking on the beach. It was written in 2007 by a Presbyterian pastor who was in a boat between the islands in Vanuatu where he ministers. It was a very lovely Gospel message in the letter, and included an address. Unfortunately he was moving in 2008, so I have sent an email to the Presbyterian office in Vanuatu asking for his details. It was quite exciting to actually find a letter in close internal doors and place 'door snakes' - or rolled towels - against the bottom of those doors. If the reptile shows no signs of moving after an hour, residents should contact a licensed snake remover or contact DERM on 1300 130 372, for further advice." Mr O'Brien said DERM did not remove snakes, but could provide details of contractors who did. "When it comes to your backyard, the same preparations that apply for storm season will reduce the chances of snakes coming to visit. Remove rubbish piles, sheets of tin and stores of timber where snakes might shelter and also keep the grass short. It's also a good idea to get rid of food sources for snakes or their prey and wear gloves while gardening."

Mr O'Brien said Queenslanders should be particularly vigilant in the bush."

"When you're out enjoying the bush, take care and remember that snakes have right of way. Never attempt to pick up any type of reptile. Never walk alone, and stay on formed paths or tracks so that you can see and avoid snakes. Always wear protective clothing such as covered shoes and trousers and carry a torch at night. It makes sense to carry a first aid kit. If someone in your group is bitten by a snake, apply a pressure immobilisation bandage, avoid moving the patient and seek medical attention immediately."

Snakes are protected under the Nature Conservation Act. Keeping a snake or any type of reptile requires a licence from DERM – go to www.derm.qld.gov.au for more information.

Spring weather wake up call for snakes

Mr Jason O'Brien, MP, reminded Queenslanders to be on the alert for snakes as the arrival of warmer weather makes the reptiles more active. "When they're left alone, snakes present little or no danger to people and by taking a few simple precautions we can reduce the chances of coming into contact with them," Mr O'Brien said.

"The important thing to remember if you see a snake is to give it a wide berth and not threaten or provoke it. Most people bitten by snakes have threatened the snake by interfering with it or trying to kill it. If left alone for a period, the snake will move on.

Residents who encounter a snake indoors should open external doors and windows,

Sewage Pump station No 2

Mr Tim Tamwoy and Mr Obediah Kris are carrying out regular inspection work to ensure the sewerage system functions as intended, here at pump station No 2 in Seisia. This is done several times each day by cleaning the filters, and checking the level is where it ought to be.

Deep in the pit is a basket. The water-level needs to be below the basket. The effluent is directed through the pipeline to the ponds.

All sorts of strange objects find their way into the pit. The sewerage system is not designed to handle bicycle parts, underwear and whatever else is flushed down the toilet. The only items to be flushed down the toilet should be bodily waste (pee and poo).

Mature and older women are asked to help educate young women and girls in how to dispose of menstruation pads properly (women's business), as clothing, underwear, towels and other materials are found in the system. These objects can clog up the flow of effluent and can damage the pumps. It is a major job to replace a pump and very costly to fix.

Yumpla 2011

Year 7 off to Brisbane

Bamaga, Injinoo, Badu and Thursday Island had auditions for Torres Strait and NPA Kriol speakers to be part of the radio show Kasa Por Yarn (the second series). The show will air next year on 4MW, complete with songs and videos on YouTube and facebook.

The roles are for one girl and two boys (late teens to early 20s) and one aunty (aged 30s - 40s). Anyone who can sing was also invited to come along.

Participants will get acting experience, have a lot of fun and be paid industry award rates. Recording starts on Thursday Island from 27th Oct to 3rd Nov.

The show has the support of Queensland Health. This content is based on Media Statement by Queensland Health.

What's on: Ghost nets, whip cracking, jewellery making, cultural cooking and painting, leather making, face painting, coconut husking, weaving, drums with Erin, storytelling, dancing, calico bag decorating, hula dancing, Bralbyn boot scooters, and much more.

The last day of celebrations continued at Yusia Ginau Memorial Field, Bamaga, 10am to 10pm.

"Mum, the day travels from east to west."

"That's right, dear."

"So when the 6 O'clock News is on in our house, it will have already started in the house next door, and the one on the other side of us will have to wait a moment longer. If we were to open all our windows and turn the volume up we would hear 'It's 6 O'clock, it's 6 O'clock, it's 6 O'clock', each word like a repeating echo to the end of the road. Maybe that's the reason when people have a meeting they all arrive at different times, but based on where they live they are on time. The ones that arrive late live just a bit further in the west."

"It's highly unlikely. The people who live further east would arrive before the meeting, or at least on time. Did that ever happen?"

NAPRC Mayor, Mr Joseph Elu handing over a cheque to Mrs Alison Covey at NPARC's Bamaga office.

World Heart Day, 29th Sep

"Heart disease is the single leading cause of death in Australia," says Mr Jason O'Brien, Member for Cook. "One person dies from a heart attack every 23 minutes. The good news is that heart disease is largely preventable. Maintaining a healthy lifestyle is vital for reducing the risk of heart disease. Mr O'Brien advised residents to have regular check- ups at their local GP, even if they feel fit and...

healthy. "Getting your cholesterol and blood pressure tested and treated (if need be) is also important to reduce your risk."

"World Heart Day is also a great opportunity to get involved in a Heart Foundation Walking group. Visit www.heartfoundation.org.au/walking for information about Heart Foundation Walking or to find a walking group near you."

Mr O'Brien said World Heart Day also provided a great opportunity to learn about the symptoms of a heart attack. "Knowing the warning signs and acting quickly can reduce damage to heart muscle and increase the chance of survival," he/she said. The warning signs can be varied and differ for each person - heart attacks are not always ...

sudden or severe, with many starting with only mild pain or discomfort in the chest. Symptoms usually last for at least 10 minutes and can come on suddenly or develop over minutes and get progressively worse. Too many people lose their lives because they don't recognise the symptoms and wait too long to call Triple Zero (000). It's always better to call Triple Zero and find out it's not a heart attack than to wait until it's too late."

(1:30 to 4 pm)

Torres Strait Island Art Show

Pathways 2

It is hailed as the 'largest ever contemporary Torres Strait Island Art Show' on display in the cultural heart of Brisbane.

"It is absolutely sensational," says Premier, Ms Anna Bligh (page 3). "It is attracting thousands of people and I get lots and lots of positive comments about it."

The exhibition totals 4 months (1 Jul to 23 Oct) and is spread over several buildings along the Southbank: At the Queensland Museum, GoMA (Gallery of Modern Art) and the Queensland State Library.

The opening was held at 1 July, at the 140th anniversary of the Coming of the Light in 1871 to Erub.

The Philip Bacon Heritage Gallery features 'Myths and Legends', a body of watercolour collections by Kala Waia, Francis Abai (both Saibai), DH Kabere, Segar Passi and John Boud (from Mer), Locky Tom (Boigu) and Ngailu and Ephraim Bani (Mabuiag).

'The Dhoeri' is showcased at the State Library, being part of the 'Strait Home' exhibition.

'Land, Sea and Sky' is exhibiting at the Gallery of Modern Art, featuring contemporary works of more than 40 artists (ends 9th Oct).

The Pathways exhibition brings together new and exciting works by five Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists from Far North Queensland and is on display at UMI Arts Gallery in Cairns (closing on 30th Sep).

In 2008 UMI Arts launched a new program of support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander visual arts called members, Exhibition Ready. The Fxhibition Ready Program provides one-onone support for artists to learn a range of skills for preparing for public exhibition.

Each of the artists included in "Pathways 2" has participated in UMI Arts Exhibition Ready Program over the past year.

Artists featured in the Pathways exhibition include Shane Gibson (Hopevale), Glen Mackie (Yam Island), Tommy Pau (Thursday Island/Cairns), Teho Ropeyarn (Injinoo) and Bernard Singleton Jnr. (Cairns).

Teho Ropeyarn, UMI Arts' Indigenous Development Officer for visual arts and crafts delivers the Exhibition Ready Program to artists who live and work in Cairns and the Far North Queensland region. Teho is also the Curator of the Pathways 2 Group Exhibition.

"It was an exciting challenge for me to curate this exhibition as I have only been in my position at UMI Arts for six months. However, I was comfortable about curating the exhibition and working with our Executive Officer, Janet Parfenovics. It was great to use the knowledge I have gained over the past four years when I was a student at the College of Fine Arts in Sydney," Teho said. The exhibition brings together a unique body of work that resonates with the artists' culture, heritage, stories, traditions and belonging to community and country.

"This exhibition exemplifies the talent of Indigenous art that is unique and distinct to Far North Queensland," says Teho.

NPARC Chief Executive Officer Mr Stuart Duncan

A visitor to the Queensland Museum, Mr Douglas: "I reckon the exhibition is really awesome. I myself have only started getting into Australian history. I've been very Americanised, growing up, and now actually to step back, to look what is happening in Australia. It's really interesting the Torres Strait Islanders really knew how to live. A lot of things I'm going to go home and take with me, and try just be conscious of in my everyday activities. It's really cool that they can go back in history and like these objects restore them for everyone to get a better idea what's happening in the past and move forward in the right direction. I think that's the beauty I'm getting out of it. All right, like take this away for myself for a more simpler way of living as model, the way I want to live, how the Torres Strait Islanders lived. They seemed to be able to live for thousands of years, undisturbed. We've only been here a couple of hundred (years) and we've reached the point where we're overpopulated, it's really hard to get food. I feel the urbanised lifestyle is actually killing Australia, so to take time out, to come and see what is happening to the Australian past, trying to think about that and work it into my everyday life, and bring the Australian past into the Australian present."

"My great-grandfather, Sir John Douglas *, I believe he was possibly the Premier of Queensland, definitely involved in parliament, don't know exactly when, but eventually he grew tired of that and worked in the Torres Strait for many, many years. Apparently he worked there, not sure exactly what it was, I just remember doing a Grade 7 report on that. Eventually they named Port Douglas after him and his work with the Torres Strait Islanders. I guess they named it in recognition of his efforts, so, yeah."

*) Sir John Douglas was the 7th Premier of Queensland (March 1877 to Jan 1879). In 1879 he was appointed government resident and magistrate at Thursday Island. He also acted as special commissioner for the protectorate of British New Guinea. Sir Douglas died at Thursday Island on 23rd July, 1904. Port Douglas was established in 1877.

Black bamboo sharks and Beizam headdress by Ken Thaiday Sr.

A programme spanning the 4 months long display adds to the whole experience with workshops, live performances, yarning and songs. 'Voices for the Light' and 'A Night by the Fire' are just two of many opportunities to see, hear and appreciate Torres Strait locals. Visitors to the Queensland Museum are greeted with the voice and familiar smile of T.I.'s Ambassador, Mr Seaman Dan on video display, who earlier performed at the opening ceremony. Mr Will Kepa had live performances. Some of the buildings have the exhibition spread over several floors, but all is within easy walking distance.

Excellent material is provided to visitors, including 'My Art Trail', a booklet for the younger generation with fun facts about the animals of the Torres Strait. It also explains how Mr Segar Passi (Mer artist) crushed rocks to create paint using dry pandanus as a brush. Why are the vegetables on Badu said to be the smallest of any Torres Strait island? Children reading 'My Art Trail' may have an idea and know a little bit about Yarwarr, who once grew the biggest on Badu. Understanding the stories may also help to understand the detailed works of Mr Dennis Nona.

School excursion into another culture (above).

Bags and baskets made of remnants of ghost nets, fish scoops, Super 8 film footage from long ago, sharks partially made of feathers, and many more items make up the huge display of Torres Strait culture.

All exhibitions are free to enter. Times are set aside to enable audience contact with various artists. There are curator's tours in each of the three galleries to hear stories about the exhibits on display. Each of the exhibitions has guided tours weekly. Oooooops eyes of what is in store:

Oct. The following Saturday is 30th Oct, in other words: 8 days a week. 'Eight days a week' is nothing new,

especially when living in the

8th century BC. The Beatles had their 7th number-one hit with that title in 1965. To find it in a 2011 calendar is rather novel. How is it possible?

Easy. 27th of October is cancelled too. As a result of this, every day that follows

jumps the queue; the 28th Oct

(which is a Friday) will be held

 $\mathbf{1}^{\text{st}}$ of November starts on a

Tuesday and you will have to twiddle your thumbs for because October (31st) runs out on a Sunday (according to the Jetstar calendar). It should be noted that the small monthly inserts are

on a Thursday, and so on.

The 29th

In Issue 24, (Mar/Apr, 2011) page 23, we wrote, '29th of February 2013 is cancelled'. There was a footnote explaining that this was the April Fools' Day edition. There is no such footnote in the current Jetstar (2011) calendar.

Please be aware of the errors in this 'collector's item' calendar.

Wisterias awaiting the signal.

Bee there, beecause

One just follows the buzz of the bees to where greenfingered gardeners year in year out, come drought, floods, or high water, delight thousands of visitors for a banquet of blooming colours, scents and delights to fill all senses. It is of course time for Toowoomba's 62nd annual 'Carnival of Flowers' (16 -25 Sept), the longest running floral event of its kind in Australia.

No doubt many a visitor admires and appreciates the hard work many put into the show. Whilst the wisterias in much of SE Queensland are already in full bloom, the famous arched tunnel at Laurel Bank Park seems to wait for the signal. Come opening day and all will burst open to release their powerful fragrance.

The carnival kicks off with the Mavoral Champagne Breakfast followed by the Grand Central Floral Parade to Queens Park. It is also time for Carnival Classic Cars, the Flower, Food & Wine Festival, a calendar full of Live Concerts, Rock and Dance workshops, community events, in total: 30 events take place during the Carnival of Flowers.

One really needs to know where to look to find evidence of the massive devastation the city went through earlier in the year.
