01 ABOUT

The Community Capacity Statement developed by the NPA Regional Council forms part of the Indigenous Economic Opportunity (IEO) Overview, which is managed and developed in consultation with the Department of Treaty, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Partnerships, Communities, and the Arts (DTATSIPCA) Program Office and NPA Regional Council Technical Working Group (TWG). The TWG, Council Executive and the DTATSIPCA Program Office provide information and advice to assist Government Agencies and Government Statutory Organisations in developing an IEO Overview, which will be included in the tender documents for projects meeting the thresholds.

This document is broken down into three primary categories:

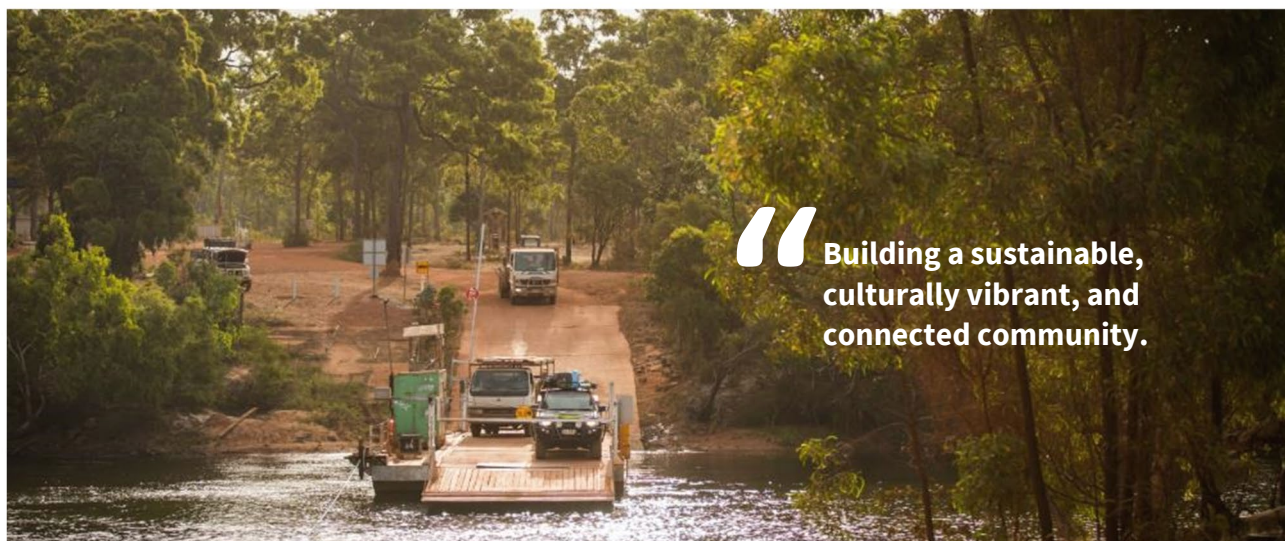

Limit of Liability

While the Council takes pride in the diverse business community within the region, we cannot guarantee the capability, capacity, or technical expertise of any third-party businesses or organisations mentioned in this Capacity Statement. All out-of-region businesses and principal contractors should exercise their normal due diligence process when engaging with new partners and sub-contractors.

02 WELCOME TO NPA

“Building a sustainable, culturally vibrant, and connected community.”

This comprehensive Community Capacity Statement guides building and construction companies interested in tendering and engaging in projects within the NPARC Aboriginal Shire Council, a recognised remote Indigenous community under Queensland legislation.

The Council offers a range of services, from a comprehensive Construction Crew to Engineering Services, and has the flexibility to assist contractors on a case-by-case basis. Contractors are encouraged to tap into the local workforce through NPA Family and Community Services (NPAFCS), a corporation that delivers the Commonwealth Government’s Community Development Programme (CDP) across the region and directly engages with local contractors and tradespersons.

Utilising local services and labour within the Shire will significantly reduce operational costs, such as accommodation and transport, associated with undertaking works in these locations. Engaging the local Indigenous workforce will also help meet the requirements of the Queensland Government Building and Construction Training Policy, effective since July 1, 2014, while fostering economic sustainability within the community.

We strongly urge our-of-region contractors to engage with the Council and local service providers, as doing so is instrumental in stimulating regional economic growth, fulfilling social benefits, and building enduring relationships within First Nation communities. You’re meeting project requirements and contributing to a more sustainable and interconnected community by utilising local resources.

ABOUT THE SHIRE

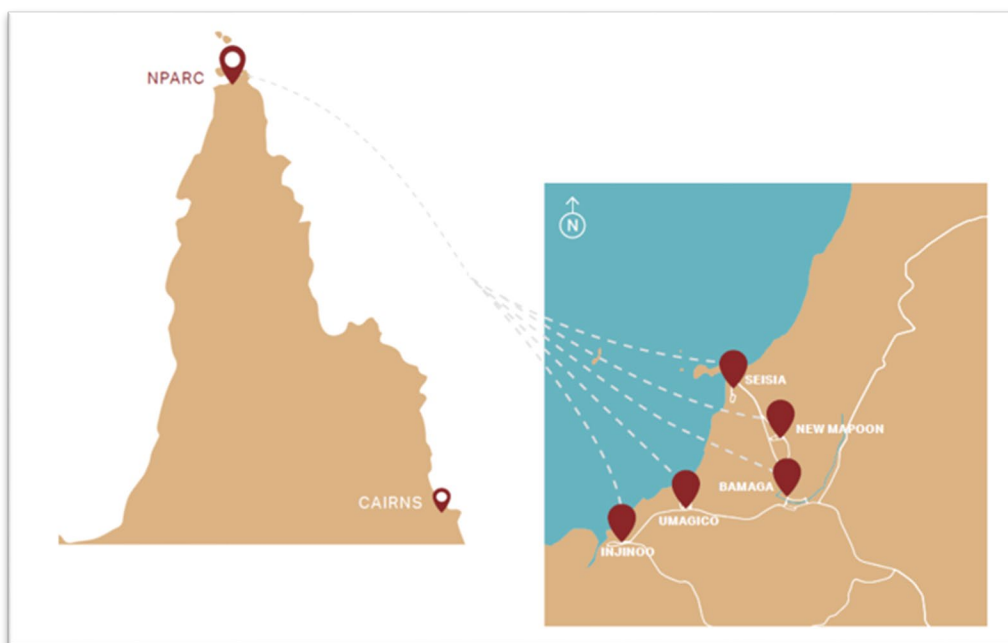

The Northern Peninsula Area Regional Council (NPARC) comprises approximately 1,071km² of land divided into the five communities of:

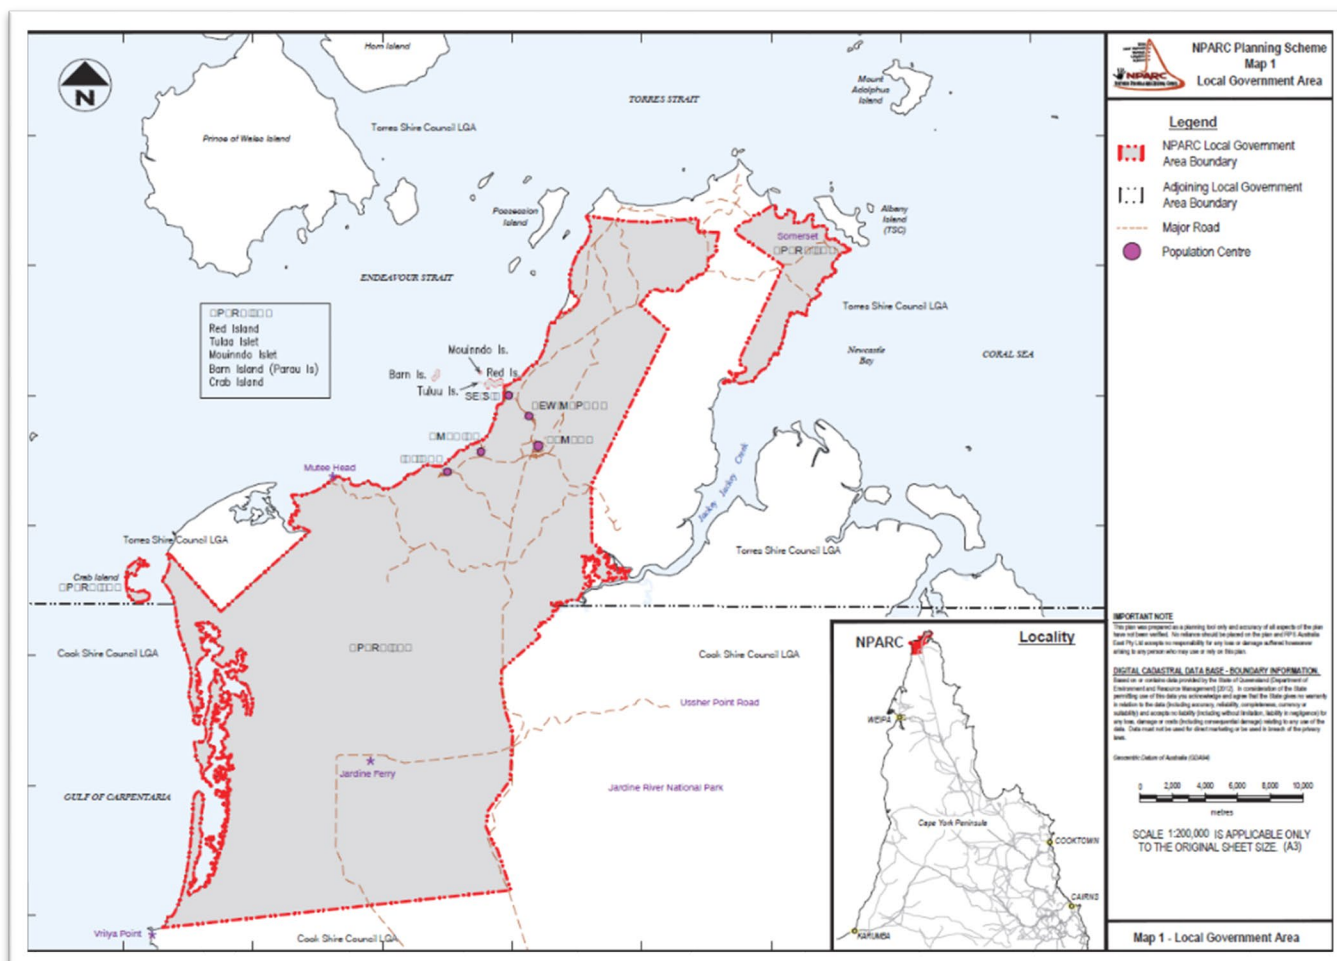

- Seisia
- New Mapoon
- Bamaga
- Umagico
- Injinoo

The region is located within the northern tip of Queensland, approximately 770 km north-west of Cairns. The Shire of Torres bounds the Council area to the north and the Shire of Cook and Jardine River National Park to the south. Seisia is the principal seaport for the NPA, and Bamaga is the commercial and administrative centre of government services.

The Council is directly involved with a significant part of the local economy through providing. Customary civic services, operating local enterprises, and administering government assistance programs in support of the strategic themes of our region.

The area receives a significant influx of visitors and tourists during the dry season via road, air and sea links which boosts the population by thousands of people and provides a substantial economic boost to the economy.

WORKFORCE

The Northern Peninsula Area's workforce reflects this region's unique socio-cultural context. Comprising a diverse mix of communities, including Injinoo, Umagico, Bamaga, New Mapoon and Seisia, the NPA workforce is characterised by a blend of Indigenous and non-Indigenous individuals contributing to various sectors. Traditional practices and cultural values often play a significant role in shaping employment dynamics, focusing on preserving and celebrating the rich heritage of the area's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. The workforce encompasses roles in local government, healthcare, education, and community services, as well as industries like fisheries and tourism, given the region's coastal location. Tourism is a major employment driver during the dry season as the area receives a significant influx of visitors and tourists.

The Northern Peninsula Area places importance on community engagement and collaboration, seeking to create sustainable economic opportunities while respecting and incorporating the diverse cultural identities of its residents.

05 A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COUNCIL

Community History

Seisia was the final community to be established in the NPA, settled by Saibai Islanders in 1947 who relocated to the mainland after their island was inundated. The Island people preferred to live by the sea, so as more families followed in pursuit of fresh water and land, they resettled at the old Red Island Wharf site. It is the least populous and northern-most community within the council area. The name Seisia is made up from the first letter of each of the brothers Sagaukauz, Elu, Ibuai, Sunai, Isua and Aken, the founding brothers of the community.

New Mapoon is a relocation from Old Mapoon (Marpuna) further down the west coast. New Mapoon was established by part of the Old Mapoon community following their forcible removal in the 1960s to allow for Bauxite mining in the Old Mapoon area. While the people of Old Mapoon were traditionally from the coast, the New Mapoon settlement was chosen due to the freshwater spring located at the back of the community. The area was traditionally known as 'Mandingnou', meaning 'Place of Spring'.

Bamaga (formerly known as Ichuru) was founded in 1948 to accommodate Torres Strait's Saibai Island people wishing to migrate to the mainland. It was chosen as a government reservation for its arable soil and abundant water sources. The Injinoo people granted permission for them to settle in the area now known as Mutee Heads while construction of the Bamaga township was underway. By 1954, the majority of the township was complete, and more Saibai Islander families moved to the mainland to settle in Bamaga. The community was named after the founder, Bamaga Ginou. It is the administrative hub of the NPA, which is in the centre of the five communities.

Umagico is locally known as Alau and is the youngest settlement in the Council area. It was settled in the late 1960s by Indigenous people from diverse backgrounds. The community has close affiliations with Injinoo, being settled by one of Injinoo's founding families, the Williams. George Williams worked for cattle baron Frank Jardine, who provided the Williams family with a homestead and land, with permission from the traditional owners, the Injinoo people. When the people of Lockhart River were forced from their land, they were given permission by the traditional owners, Williams and Jardines, to settle at the homestead in Umagico. The community's name means 'Black-headed Python place'.

Injinoo is the oldest township settlement in the NPA region, formed by five semi-nomadic tribes escaping colonialist persecution who then settled peacefully at the mouth of Cowal Creek (meaning Small River). These clans were the Anggamuthi, Atambaya, Wuthathi, Yadaigana and Gudang clans. Their descendants, the people of Injinoo, are the Traditional Owners of the land.

ABOUT WORKING IN THE SHIRE

Corporate Social Responsibility

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

NPA Regional Council is keen to assist contractors working in the NPARC community in meeting their social responsibilities by facilitating their participation in local community projects and contributing towards community pride. Contractors should contact the Council CEO to discuss potential opportunities.

Alcohol Management Plans

Visitors to NPARC are advised to familiarise themselves with the Alcohol Management Plan (AMP) in place for the community. Information about AMP restrictions can be found at:

<https://www.qld.gov.au/firstnations/community-alcohol-restrictions/remote-discrete-communities/northern-peninsula-area>

Groceries and Fuel

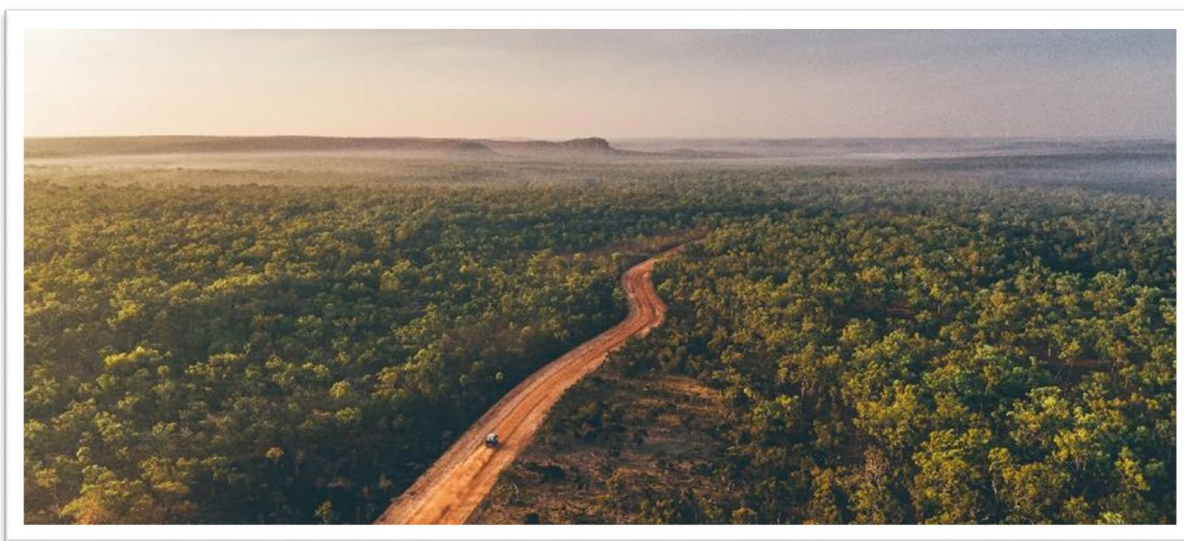

Supermarket shopping is available at three locations: ALAU Umagico Supermarket, operated by NPARC and ALPA; IBIS Bamaga, operated by CEQ and Seisia Supermarket, operated by Seisia Enterprises. Smaller stores are available in Injinoo at the Injinoo, Bamaga, and Seisia Service Stations.

Bamaga Bakehaus, owned and operated by Bamaga Enterprises, provides fresh bread products, cakes and sandwiches.

Dine-in options are available at the Bamaga Resort, Seisia Holiday Park kiosk, Punsand Bay and Loyalty Beach.

Fuel is available at Bamaga BP service station and Seisia Service Stations.

Road Conditions

Most roads in the NPA are unsealed and require regular maintenance to keep them in good condition. Recommended access is via 4-wheel drive vehicles. The roads between the communities of Injinoo, Umagico, Bamaga, New Mapoon and Seisia are all sealed roads.

Council operates the Jardine River Ferry to transport vehicles across the Jardine River 7 days a week from 8am- 5pm. During the NPA region's busy tourism period between the months of May to October the Jardine Ferry can have significant delays due to the large volume of travellers enroute to the Tip of Cape York. All vehicles must make sure to arrive at the ferry by 4pm to ensure a timely crossing of the Jardine River and avoid missing the ferry closing time. For more information visit <https://www.nparc.qld.gov.au/jardine-ferry-1>

Contact: Northern Peninsula Area Regional Council - 180 Adidi St, Bamaga.

Ph: 07 4090 4100 or 0740904120

Email: jardineferry@nparc.qld.gov.au or info@nparc.qld.gov.au

During the Wet season roads to the south are cut, due to rising water levels. Councils Engineering Services Department looks after 482.62km of roads / tracks in the NPA.

Roads and water crossings can become impassable and dangerous during the wet season. Rivers and water crossings can rise quickly, and travellers should be aware of conditions prior to travel and monitor closely.

Climate

The Cape York Peninsula is blessed with a warm tropical climate all year round. It has a wet season from November to April and a dry season from May to October. The temperature is warm to hot. Climate statistics are available from the Australian Bureau of Meteorology for the nearby weather station at Horn Island just off the top of Cape York.

Traditional Owner Groups

Ipima Ikaya Aboriginal Corporation (IIAC) was formed and became the Registered Native Title Body Corporate (RNTBC) and was assigned with the responsibility to manage the native title on behalf of the traditional owners of the Angkamuthi, Atambaya and Gudang Yadkeykenu tribal groups.

WASTE MANAGEMENT & ASBESTOS DISPOSAL

On behalf of Community, Council ensures regular collection and disposal of solid and liquid wastes, overseeing the waste transfer facility and landfill, recycling, and materials recovery, and brokering community education programs in relation to waste and resource management.

ASBESTOS

It is advised that any asbestos material found or removed during development is subject to special consideration. At the time of writing the nearest available refuse station which accepts Asbestos is in Cairns. Developers and Contractors are to account for the package, removal shipment and disposal fees of asbestos material within their project budgets.

Being Water Wise

The Shire is reliant on limited water sources and systems to supply drinking water to the community. Subsequently, potable water supply may require special consideration and is not generally available for use in development for purposes such as dust suppression and standpipes. Developers and Contractors are to investigate options of non-potable.

Traffic Management Planning

Before development begins, developers are to submit for approval to the Council traffic management plans which detail proposed laydown areas, traffic, and pedestrian controls, changed traffic conditions, heavy vehicle movements, etc. Council will review the plans and only upon their approval will development be allowed to begin.

Stormwater Drainage

Council maintains stormwater drainage systems and the Infrastructure and Works Department oversees these services.

Waste Management

The Shire is limited in available space and landfill capacity. Subsequently developers are to allow for removal and disposal of waste materials to the mainland within their project budgets.
